

Kahn Releases New Range Rover Sport Side Vents

04/07/2012 15:25 by admin

Modifying Range Rovers is the core business of British aftermarket developer Kahn and despite the fact that it tackles a wide range of other vehicles, including names ranging from Porsche to Bentley, the Range Rovers will forever have a special place in its heart. We could tell this in the past by reading Kahn press released and the impression was reinforced when we visited the company earlier this year (you can read more about this by fo... [...])
