The C63 AMG probably takes the title of the craziest compact wagons on the market. It leaves the German factories powered by a 6.2-liter naturally aspirated bellowing V8 that can produce as much as 457 horsepower. And that's enough to race sportscars between the lights if that tickles your fancy. However, Wimmer RS has found a way to boost the performance levels of the AMG Wagon to completely new levels. We're talking ... [...]
