The Americans invented the musclecar, but Germans have has a say in the market with their own V8-powered monsters. Mercedes and BMW both had their own say in the matter with the compact and powerful C63 AMG and M3. However, while Mercedes has constantly upgraded the C-Class, and the facelift was amazingly well thought out, BMW has been shy in giving the M3 anything worth wile. That’s where America steps in with a bit of passion ... [...]
