

2012 Audi A6 Tuned by JMS

06/01/2013 17:16 by admin

The 2012 Audi A6 has received a new styling kit from JMS. The development, which targets both sedan and Avant models, is suitable for vehicles without the S-Line package. The JMS kit uses a minimalist approach that keeps the car pretty close to its stock appearance, but offers it a certain visual edge. The modifications start with a front fascia lip which uses a black central element. This fits the OEM bumper and extends 3 cm (1.1 inches)... [...]
