You would think that a surge in tuning programs over the past month would be enough for an aftermarket company to slow down, relax, and enjoy the spoils of its new products. But some companies, like Wheelsandmore, don't believe in the concept of being idle. Maybe that's why it doesn't take them long enough to get back to work, as shown by its newest aftermarket project. This one is for the Mercedes E63 AMG S-Model and it has since been fitted with the German tuner's popular "Seven-11" program. As is always the case when it comes to a Wheelsandmore program, the aftermarket company doesn't like wasting time building programs for cars that only went on sale a few months ago. That's the case with the E63 AMG S-Model, a vehicle Mercedes touted as a suitable replacement for its former AMG Performance Package.[...]
