

Ferrari F12 Berlinetta SPIA Looks "Eccellente" in Hong Kong

19/03/2014 12:59 by admin

German supercar tuner DMC just shared photos of one of their most recent project cars, a Ferrari F12 Berlinetta which sports their carbon fiber bodykit with pride in Hong Kong. As it was, the F12 was a great car to draw attention, even in the richest district of the city, but DMC's work adds a little bit of extra zing to the mixture without overpowering the taste. This white F12 is the fourth car we know of...
