The Audi A8 may be a luxury car by appearance, but it has a lot more to offer than just its good looks. Any aftermarket company that has built tuning programs for the A8 will attest to this, none more profoundly than Senner Tuning. The German aftermarket company has built programs for a wide range of Audi models. This time around, it has set its sights on the four rings' flagship luxury sedan. Admittedly, the program lacks the visual appeal that Senner Tuning's other Audi programs have had. But that isn't a reason to gripe. This kit is all about polishing the luxury sedan's performance credentials, which has plenty of room for improvement. That's what Senner Tuning zeroed in on, and the results are pretty impressive.[...]
