Until today, the Hamann Mystere was the most extreme tuning project based on the new Range Rover SUV brothers, especially in chrome. But that all changed today when Startech unveiled their Range Rover Pickup at Auto Shanghai 2015. Let's just come out in the open and admit that we love this thing. It makes no sense to turn an expensive, practical SUV into a carbon fiber pickup, but it's so interesting we'd look at it all da... [...]
