Be afraid, be very afraid, as the Tesla Model S could soon challenge hypercars in a drag race. We know that off the line, the P85D is faster than a Ferrari 458 Italia due to its monstrous power and torque. But Russian tuners Larte Design announced plans to increase the output all the way to 900 horsepower. In a recent company statement, Larte said Tesla customers should not be worried, as the 29% power boost will not increase the rate at ...[...]
