

Novitec Rosso Ferrari California T Revealed with Carbon Kit, More Power - Video, Photo Gallery

13/05/2015 18:21 by admin

Ferrari first showed the California T in February 2014, just before the Geneva Motor Show of that year. We haven't heard much from the tuning scene since then, but today Novitec released a yellow streak of prancing lightning. Getting straight to the point, the Ferrari tuning specialists decided to play with the electronics of the new twin-turbo V8 engine in order to extract more power. The convertible supercar has also been equipped ... [...]
