

Mazda CX-3 Gets Aggressive Body Kit from DAMD, Looks Like NFS Racer

21/08/2015 16:42 by admin

The Mazda CX-3 is as fresh as a new pack of kitty litter, having just started to arrive in US showrooms. We like its sporty looks and rakish roof line, preferring it to rivals, such as the Chevy Trax or Honda HR-V. But that doesn't mean there is no room for improvement. Japanese tuning firm DAMD is responsible for this aggressive new look, which has the same vibe as the custom CX-5 we showed you earlier this week. [...]

Source: autoevolution