To those who fear Bentley is turning into the footballers' department of Volkswagen, the new Project Kahn Pearl White Bentley flying Spur possesses an unquantifiable amount of magnificence that comes, in large part, from being unashamedly different.

As refreshing and inspiring as a traditional luxury vehicle can be: the Project Kahn Bentley has real road presence and makes a real style statement.

The most unique feature of the 'Project Kahn Pearl White Flying Spur Bentley' is the addition of the new 'White Mist' alloy wheel.

The new 22" White Mist diamond cut alloy wheel enhances the Bentleys elegant curves while embracing the vehicle's distinct style.

Embellished with a unique geometrical pattern - the White Mist wheel exudes richness befitting a car of this exclusive nature.

The vehicle is also fitted with Kahn quilted leather and a Project Kahn electronic lowering module. As standard the suspension is lowered by 20mm but this can be adjusted according to the customers' requirements.

Bentley owners can now testify to the exuberance of passion and sumptuous beauty of Afzal Kahn's designs.

The Pearl White Project Kahn Bentley flying Spur is for an extraordinary assortment of drivers and full-time heroes.

The Project Kahn Pearl White Bentley is unique and, in this era of ever increasing automotive conformity, that counts for a lot.

As the UK's leading automotive design house, Project Kahn recognises the importance of dynamic cutting edge designs whilst staying true to the original form. Our elegant and sculpted Pearl White Bentley Flying Spur evolved through skilled artistic innovation, state-of-the art manufacturing and materials technology. Bentley owners will testify to the exuberance of passion and sumptuous beauty of A Kahn Design.
