This is the world's only widebody convertible Dodge Challenger with the modifications by West Coast Customs. The car has just 169 miles and is located in Las Vegas, Nevada. The car was for sale on eBay receiving a high bid of $50,200. Unfortunately that bid did not meet the reserve price and the auction for the vehicle has now ended. The car features a convertible conversion, custom wide body kit and is based on the mid-level R/T model. The car was also given a total changeover to the interior. There is black and white leather and a Polk stereo system. The car has 26-inch Asanti wheels, sports exhaust, tail lamps that are blacked out and a rear spoiler
