WheelSTO have released a video showing off their work on the BMW 135i - Project 1 v1.2. The video clip shows some moments of the perfectly black coupe assembly and cruising on the streets.

Why moments of assembly? The idea is that the dream 1er can be achieved with components off-the-shelf, bolt-on items that can easily be acquired and put on by anyone like 100% carbon fiber diffuser from Japan, 19x8 +45 front and 19x9 +50 back Advan RZ wheels in Gunmetal-finish packed with Yokohama Advan AD08, 225/35/19 and 255/30/19, H&R Sport Springs and more from IND/A&L, K1 Productions, and VS Motorsports.

Engine: Twin turbo 3.0-liter 6 cylinder that produced 300 hp and boosted power to 414 weels horsepower. If this is not enough for you the company says 376 and 327 horsepower editions are also possible
