

Porsche Panamera by Sportec

12/04/2010 16:44 by admin

Swiss tuners Sportec released a wide range of options for owners of Porsche Panamera.

Panamera Turbo's 4.8 liter biturbo V8 received treatment that power up the engine to 560hp. That is 65hp. more from the original one. The sprint from 0-100km/h is faster by 0.2 seconds, to 3.8 seconds. Vmax has been increased up to 315km/h.

The Panamera's chassis received an ESC system. This is control unit that lowers the car with air suspension, and is fully adjustable. The performance kit also includes 22x9-inch front, 22x10.5-inch rear light alloy wheels wrapped in Continental tires. – front 265/30/ZR22 , rear 305/25/ZR22

Six piston caliper front, four piston caliper rear breaks paired with ventilated discs works for the driver and passengers's safety.

New sport exhaust system made of stainless steel and bafflers to let the driver change the sound is optionally available

-

-