A few years after it released a GT3 race version for the Lamborghini Gallardo LP560, Reiter Engineering is back with a new GTS-spec Gallardo: the 2011 Lamborghini LP600+ GT3. Based on the Gallardo LP560-4, Reiter Engineering tweaked the supercar and turned it into a race-spec version that will compete in GT3 races for the 2011 season. Reiter Engineering is no stranger to producing race-winning GT3 racers. Their previous work ? the Gallardo LP560 GT3 ? sold more than 50 examples worldwide while also dominating races in the GT3 class of various racing series all over the world.
